Monica Donnelley

Monica Donnelley is pharmacist specialist at the University of California, Davis Medical Center (UCD) in the area of infectious diseases (ID). She is board certified in ID and pharmacotherapy. She also holds a certificate issued by the American Association of HIV Pharmacists.

Her training after pharmacy school included a post graduate year one (PGY1) Acute Care Pharmacy Practice Residency and PGY2 in ID Residency at UCD. Monica is the current PGY2 ID residency program director.

She loves to work with learners and contributes to the care of patients by actively rounding with the infectious diseases consult service, performing antimicrobial stewardship, research, publications, committee work, and guideline development.

Her research interests include new antimicrobials and antifungals, antimicrobial dosing in critically ill, improving antimicrobial stewardship services, Outpatient Parenteral Antimicrobial Therapy (OPAT) transitions of care, and reducing C. difficile infections. Speaking at conferences is also a great way for her to learn from others, develop professionally, and share best practices.

Andrea Iannucci

Andrea Iannucci is an Assistant Chief Pharmacist at the UC Davis Medical Center. UC Davis Medical Center is a 550 bed acute care hospital with a fully accredited, NCI Designated, Comprehensive Cancer Center. Andrea oversees the Investigational Drugs and Oncology Pharmacy programs at UCDMC. She is an Oncology Pharmacy Specialist with 24 years of experience practicing in oncology pharmacy. She is also a Clinical Professor with the University of California, San Francisco School of Pharmacy and the UC Davis School of Medicine. She is the Director of the PGY2 Oncology Pharmacy Specialty Residency at UCDMC.

Andrea completed her Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 1992 at the University of California in San Francisco. She also completed her Pharmacy Practice Residency at UCSF in 1993 and an Oncology Pharmacy Specialty Residency at MD Anderson Cancer Center in 1994. Andrea is a Board Certified Oncology Pharmacist and an appointed, Specialist Member of the Board of Directors, for the Board of Pharmacy Specialties (BPS). Andrea has previously served as an appointed member, vice chair and chair of the Oncology Specialty Council of the BPS from 2002-2007.

Andrea is a regular reviewer for the Journal of Oncology Pharmacy Practice and has co-authored several articles and book chapters on a variety of oncology topics. Andrea participates in clinical research activities with physicians, residents and students at UCDMC. Areas of research interest include: supportive care and symptom management in oncology and stem cell transplant patients; acute leukemias; chemotherapy drug-dosing in organ dysfunction; and management and prevention of chemotherapy-related toxicities.

Ty Kiser

Dr. Ty Kiser is a Tenured Professor and Vice Chair in the Department of Clinical Pharmacy at the University of Colorado Skaggs School of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences. He is a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist in the Medical Intensive Care Unit at the University of Colorado Hospital.

Dr. Kiser received his Pharm.D. at the University of North Carolina. He completed a pharmacy practice residency at Johns Hopkins Hospital and a Critical Care Residency and Critical Care/Infectious Diseases Fellowship at the University of Colorado.

Dr. Kiser served as the chair of the Society of Critical Care Medicine Clinical Pharmacy and Pharmacology section and as chair of the American College of Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP) critical care practice and research network. He previously served on the board of regents for ACCP and the critical care specialty council for the Board of Pharmaceutical Specialties (BPS).

Dr. Kiser's research has focused on optimizing the pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics of pharmacologic agents in critically ill patients with organ dysfunction and has resulted in over 150 peer reviewed publications. He has been a speaker over 75 times at national and international conferences and has directly trained over 25 PGY2 critical care residents.

John Tovar

Dr. Tovar recently joined the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine - Georgia Campus. He serves as Associate Professor and Chair for the Department of Pharmacy Practice. Prior to this, Dr. Tovar spent 6 years abroad where he served as CEO and Academic Director for RICERCA Medical and Clinical Services in the city of Arequipa, Peru. Dr. Tovar also served as an Associate Professor in the department of Pharmacy Practice at the University of the Incarnate Word Feik School of Pharmacy and as a Clinical Assistant Professor in the department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio in San Antonio, Texas. He graduated from the University of Florida with a Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 2002 and then completed a 2-year fellowship in Family Medicine at the same institution. He is a registered pharmacist in Texas.

Dr. Tovar has been published in numerous medical journals including the Annals of Pharmacotherapy, Journal of Pharmacy Practice, Postgraduate Medicine and Journal of Family Practice. He has also co-authored chapters on infectious disease topics in 2 medical/pharmacy handbooks; Internal Medicine at Your Fingertips and Pharmacotherapy Point of Care Guide. Dr. Tovar has presented at numerous national and international meetings. Dr. Tovar's areas of research interest include cardiovascular and infectious diseases. More recently, Dr. Tovar has begun researching teaching methodologies used in the education of pharmacists. He is also a passionate advocate for immunizations.
